

Good Day

Recently I wanted to shop at your store. When I was forced to wear a mask, I chose to leave and go elsewhere. If mask mandates are dropped I will continue to support the businesses who respected my rights.

By this point in time, we are all aware that enforcing mask wearing rules has nothing to do with health but is a means of psychological manipulation and government control. If it were about health only the N95 would be allowed (and even then the effectiveness is not complete). In most countries around the world mask mandates have now been lifted but our government is keeping them in place (the legality of this choice which goes against the bill of rights and the constitution is being challenged in court by numerous organisations). It appears that the only reason why our government continues to enforce these rules is to use them as a manipulative tool to reach their vaccination targets. Businesses who continue to push this nonsensical madness on their customers are making a choice to disrespect their customer's human rights, and to reject real science.

Thankfully many businesses are taking the side of reason and sanity and are respecting their customers choice to breathe freely. Since the state of disaster ended, I have noticed that many privately owned (non chain stores) have removed the mask sign from outside and serve customers with no face covering. Many chain stores choose to turn a blind eye when I shop bare faced, or with a mask on my chin.

You may argue that some customers make a fuss if masks are not enforced. My response to this is that by this point, pandering to them is nothing more than encouraging and enabling mental illness. The state of disaster is over, the government acknowledges that at this point there is no pandemic. I am 100% healthy and asymptomatic spread has proven to be a myth. This is backed up by the fact that government has also stated that workers who test Covid positive but have no symptoms may still go to work. You may argue that you will be fined if you allow unmasked customers, this may be true in theory but in reality to the best of my knowledge there has not been any case of this happening in reality since the lifting of the state of disaster.

Any business who continues to bully customers and enforce this nonsense is making a choice to stand on the wrong side of history, for this compliance is paving the way for governmental control which could take us past a point of no return.

Please find links here to multiple international studies proving that masks do not work.

<https://www.pandata.org/infobank-masks>

For more awareness of information not available in mainstream media, I also recommend reading VUKA news. <https://vukasa.org.za>