

SA's Covid-19 response just got weirder – Brian Pottinger

28th March 2022 by Editor BizNews

Veteran South African journalist, Brian Pottinger, asks some very searching questions here, sparked by what seems to be SA's most absurd anti-Covid-19 meas yet. That is the branding of SARSCoV2 as a 'Group 3 Hazardous Biological Agent', ^ which widens the scope of employers to enforce vaccine mandates in spite of an early clutch of vaccine-mandate-favouring CCMA rulings. Like many good journalists, Pottinger goes to motive and doesn't like the conclusions he reaches. First, however, he paints what appears to be a convincing context, complete with examples of governments abusing their powers by putting the fear of death into their populations. Add to this what we've learnt along the way and how our authoritarian response blindly follows the global pack and we're looking at a darker narrative: a pandemic management history rotten with dishonesty at every level. Maybe that's why the going has got even weirder, posits Pottinger. – Chris Bateman

Vaccine mandates just got weirder

By Brian Pottinger*

Amid all the justified public rage, suspicion and ridicule about the latest fiasco of the amended Covid-19 regulations, the most alarming aspect seems to have slipped by almost unnoticed. President Cyril Ramaphosa's government has unprecedentedly branded SARSCoV2 a Group 3 Hazardous Biological Agent, thus giving wide powers to employers to force their workers to be vaccinated against an expiring coronavirus in the last stages of a dying guided panic.

Brian Pottinger

Prior to the Gazette on 16 March 2022, Business Unity South Africa (BUSA) had quietly indicated they would no longer seek a Constitutional Court ruling on the legality of forcing employees to be vaccinated under duress. They knew what was coming and probably did not want a judgment anyway. They rolled over, were typically complicit.

Section 43 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act, 1993 (Act No 85 of 1993) was designed to protect workers in businesses where hazardous biological agents are “produced, processed, used, handled, stored or transported”. Incredibly, this provision has now been applied to an endemic coronavirus and extended to all employees everywhere.

https://www.greengazette.co.za/notices/occupational-health-and-safety-act-1993-hazardous-biological-agents-regulations_20220316-GGR-46051-01887.pdf

The decision might yet prove one of the most fateful of President Ramaphosa’s deeply challenged presidency and a test of the good faith of South Africa’s big employers during the last two years. Nothing better indicates President Ramaphosa’s insistence, and that of his rapidly narrowing and secretive band of advisers, to force mandatory vaccines come what may. Why?

Let us quickly summarise what we have gathered about the SARSCoV2 outbreak of 2020 and its symptoms known as Covid-19.

We know the death and infection projections of the scientific academic scientists who got us all locked up were wildly, maliciously and fantastically wrong.

Professor Mark Wodehouse, one of the top advisers to the UK Government during the initial panic, described them in his jaw-dropping book, The Year the World Went Mad (Sandstone), as not remotely plausible.

We have learnt that data collected by the World Health Organisation (WHO) and its reporting agencies was manipulated to exaggerate infections and deaths. In many countries those statistics are now being qualified, revised down or disclaimed. Go check the WHO's dashboard.

<https://apps.who.int/iris/handle/10665/333752>

<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/news/2021/12/28/covid-hospital-data-should-treated-caution-many-patients-admitted/>

<https://covid19.who.int/info>

We know excess deaths, once all allocated to Covid-19, have proven to be equal only to a severe decadal coronavirus when controlled for natural mortality growth, misdiagnosis, routine excess winter deaths and the huge number of collateral deaths caused by the criminal withdrawal or delay of medical cover to the public, ostensibly to serve the Covid-19 patients who never arrived. These friendly-fire deaths are now quantifiable through the huge increases in non-Covid-19 insurance death claims.

<https://www.healthleadersmedia.com/payer/rise-non-covid-19-deaths-hits-life-insurers>

And we know the status of PCR and RT-PCR testing kits, the go-to tool supporting the narrative of mass species extinction, was withdrawn for emergency use by the US Federal Drug Agency (FDA) in July last year and from 1 January this year, the CDC no longer uses them. Research showed they were unreliable indicators of infection. South African authorities insist on still using the kits. Why?

https://www.cdc.gov/csels/dls/locs/2021/07-21-2021-lab-alert-Changes_CDC_RT-PCR_SARS-CoV-2_Testing_1.html

Professor John Ionnidis of Stanford University Maryland researched 61 studies of sero-prevalence, an analytical system based on measuring the pathogen level in a population through blood serum as opposed to cooked official stats and flawed test kits. His report put the global infection fatality rate (IFR) at 0.15%, equal to the Asian Flu Pandemic of 1957 or the Hong Kong Flu outbreak of 1968, which the species evidently survived without extraordinary measures. It was 0.05% for those younger than 70 years old, less than a common flu. Since then, fatality rates have dropped even further as milder forms of the virus naturally and predictably evolve. No credible scientific challenge has been raised to his findings.

<https://www.scienceopen.com/document?vid=1cce1fd4-60fb-4b6e-8a16-25d9da476605>

https://www.who.int/bulletin/online_first/BLT.20.265892.pdf

Now let us get to vaccines.

First, we were told the immunity offered by the vaccines was more potent than natural infection. Then it was not, but perhaps equal. Next, we were told the vaccines would prevent infections. Then they would not: patently, because some of the most highly vaccinated countries showed the highest reinfection.

Now we are told, most recently by President Ramaphosa, the scientific evidence shows they reduce the intensity of infection and likely death. Really? The evidence, in fact, shows the data is not controlled for age and cause of death or time since last inoculation nor, critically, for a decline in fatalities due to a naturally and predictably diminishing pathogenic intensity of the evolving virus. Again, we are told we need 70 per cent population vaccination to reach national immunity. Then we are told it is not enough that 80 per cent of us have in fact been infected.

Intriguingly, no manufacturer of these treatments calls their product a vaccine: that would breach the trade practice and drug control regulations in every jurisdiction in the world. Only the promoters of the official narrative, including the South African Government, mainstream media and employers continue to mislead.

The containment measures adopted by panicked governments, ours included, have veered from the ludicrous to the catastrophic. A credible trination research project published last month by researchers at Johns Hopkins, Lund University and the Danish Centre for Political Studies shows total lock-downs with all their devastating consequences prevented at most 0.2% of deaths compared to simply trusting people to do the right thing. Boris Johnson's lot, according to the research, caused untold and lasting economic, social, political and psychological damage to save at most 100 lives. South Africa had one of the most severe lockdowns in the world. For what?

<https://sites.krieger.jhu.edu/iae/files/2022/01/A-Literature-Review-and-Meta-Analysis-of-the-Effects-of-Lockdowns-on-COVID-19-Mortality.pdf>

The United States Supreme Court, on 13 January 2022, ruled that only Congress can mandate compulsory vaccination and not the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's Emergency Standard on Vaccination (OSHA ETS), thus opening the possibility of humungous lawsuits by employees forced under duress to get the shot, a signal warning to South African employers as to what will happen when the Constitutional Court certainly reverses these unconstitutional regulations by inferior legal bodies enacting administrative law.

<https://www.natlawreview.com/article/us-supreme-court-rules-vaccine-mandates-osha-and-cms>

Austria hastily scrapped its compulsory vaccination laws after a month as illegal ^ and unworkable. Across the world, Covid-19 restrictions and vaccine mandates are being repealed in their entirety. Only six per cent of South Africans in a recent City Press poll supported tougher measures and other research showed a strong opposition amongst particularly Africans to compulsory vaccinations.

Investors in Pfizer and Moderna, meanwhile, are dumping their shares and heading for the hills: moneymen can unerringly sense when a good party is about to turn into a very, very nasty one.

<https://www.cnn.com/2022/02/14/moderna-pfizer-stocks-fall-as-omicron-covid-wave-subsides-in-us-.html>

In short, the orthodox version of the SARSCoV2 outbreak as historical epidemiology, virology and pandemic control is in piratical tatters.

Yet, incredibly and despite this long litany of bad science and worse faith during the SARSCoV2 outbreak, the memo seems not to have reached President Ramaphosa. His authoritarian new regulations now seek to hardwire arbitrary and dictatorial powers into the future life of the country on the back of a comprehensively and maliciously misrepresented viral outbreak. Why?

His government's almost instinctive inclination to do the wrong thing at the wrong time may be one answer. A natural desire to hold onto all autocratic levers possible as we head for the usual violent turbulence of another democratic ANC internal leadership contest, may be the other.

After all, if the Chinese can use a suspiciously fortuitous Covid-19 resurgence to specifically target a secessionist Hong Kong, cripple high-tech supply routes to the west out of Shenzhen, close financial markets in Shanghai and lock up the cheeky Uyghurs and Tibetans, all just as China controversially supports an embattled ally against the West, what grand possibilities exist for us in the use of the terror brand here.

But there is another possible, darker reason for this madness. In a country where the biggest cause of death is the Big C – Corruption – and one with a pandemic management history rotten with dishonesty at every level, we are entitled to ask what lies behind these series of bizarre and irrational decisions and proposals.

The developing world has historically been the dumping ground for obsolete, surplus and redundant medicines by a pharmaceutical sector not always famed for its adherence to ethical practice. There are plenty of vaccines around urgently seeking recipients as developed world nations wind down their demand, patents are challenged and investors flee (not to mention the National Treasury wanting to know what the government is going to do about all those unused expiring vaccines and the R1.2bn Covid-19 emergency reception centre that nobody used). Will we become just another dreary developing world example of bought markets and sold consumers?

The biomedical market, more than most, is full of incestuous self-serving and vested interests. We know the familiar cycle: pharmaceutical companies pay for the research which identifies the diseases which gets the researchers appointed as advisers to governments who pass the laws which force the public to buy the cures. Press repeat. No conspiracy here: just good business. Are we sure our public policy decision-making has been free of such influences at the highest levels?

Catastrophic financial, social and political damage has been done to our society by the imposition of irrelevant, western-derived containment solutions by our 'Me Too' and one-size-fit-all epidemiological and virological advisers and their sponsors.

South African society is in a brittle and volatile mood; insurrection, as we know, is not notional. Does President Ramaphosa really want to impose draconian measures to combat an expiring virus in a way that will introduce a modern-day apartheid between the rich and employed, who are predominantly vaccinated, and the poor and unemployed, who are not? Is he willing to strike resonance with the bitterest living memory for many South Africans; bits of paper telling one where one can or cannot go in one's own country, who can be employed and who not? And for what? For whom?

There is only one way to finally get to the truth of this most extraordinary moment in modern history, our medieval moment. Science and the mainstream media have patently failed us. The courts must judge on these measures. The government must also appoint a judicial commission of inquiry to investigate the nature of the outbreak, its management, the key players involved and their interests, victims, beneficiaries, lessons and above all, the conduct of the biomedical sciences and big business over the last two years.

Internationally, the skullduggery of so many of my "scientific" colleagues has resulted in the public having no faith in science anymore. As a scientist, without any funding, this makes me sad, because true science serves society; that's what we define it as - a servant to society to be custodians of and improve our well-being and the that of the planet. However, these "commercial" scientists have used our faith in science to dupe us, by decreeing with incredible confidence that their interpretations of science as the only correct ones, and all others are wrong. An example of how science has been used to mislead: In the I-TECH trial, ivermectin was effective against death with a $p = 0.09$ with three people dying in the ivermectin arm and 10 in the standard of care arm. However the conclusion of the paper states that ivermectin is ineffective against progression to severe disease, which was apparently their primary outcome of interest. What the $p = 0.09$ means is that we can be 91% certain that the results are not a coincidence. However, the commercial scientists will have us believe that anything under a $p = 0.05$ is not statistically significant. $P = 0.05$, which means we can be 95% certain that an outcome is not a coincidence, was decided by Fisher in the last century to be a cut-off for statistical significance. When asked why he chose that specific number, he said he thought it was a good idea. A great scientific intuition which has served statisticians well for decades, but we need to understand what it means. A statistically significant outcome need not exclude a meaningful one. If you were given the option of being in a drug trial and the chances were 91% that you had a better survival chance in the ivermectin arm, what would you choose? I would like to urge us all to start thinking for ourselves. Do not believe everything the commercial and celebrity scientists tell you. Believe in science, but know what is science and what is dupery that uses science.

"Celebrity scientists" - you said it! Yes, it is sad that funding is not longer provided for real science. In this great Universe, you will always be a scientist. Your curiosity and intelligence will always prompt you to look for answers, whether you have a state-of-the-art lab, or working in your garage. All the best to you.

Good comment. There is a certain amount of suspicion over the contents in those vaccine vials. Documents released, some through FOIA, some through whistleblowers, leakers, private lab analysis ect indicate a more sinister agenda. As a scientist, are those suspicions justified?

Science and Mathematics have been found to be racist in the new SA. According to an indigenous UCT student Western modernity is the problem that decolonisation directly deals with - 'we are going to decolonise by having knowledge that is produced by us, that speaks to us and that is able to accommodate knowledge from our perspective.'

Please make an effort to use paragraphs - perhaps 4 in this case? It will make your comment easier to read and increase its impact. You could also have made the Ivermectin example simpler. Remember, most readers are non scientists.

As far as scientific funding, which in European countries is often government funding, the sensational research like HIV attracts most funding while in reality "boring" research far more frequently produces the beneficial results.

1. There never was a pandemic
2. The virus (manufactured by stupid Cyril's Chinese owners) has a 99% survivability rate. That makes it less harmful than ordinary flu.
3. Vaccines provide immunity. There is NO vaccine for this virus
4. People who have had the injection are more likely to get the infection, and get it in a way ^ way.
5. The so-called vaccine has various side effects, ranging from feeling ill to paralysis and death...
6. The emergency was declared invalid by the High court. No measure needs to be obeyed by anyone.

7. Ivermectin and HCQ are proven to be effective.

8. These idiots in the ANC have never held real jobs or run businesses - so they have no idea what they are doing.

Great article Brian! I read "States of Panic and the New Medieval" when it came out and your insight is amazing. It also illustrates the value of the history of how these crooked schemes have happened before. This quote comes to mind "All of this has happened before. And will happen again—the same plot from beginning to end, the identical staging." Who said that? - Marcus Aurelius 5th Emperor of Rome the year 180!

Hmmm.....no wonder the woke mob always try to get rid of history!

More bluntly the vaccine has no effect on the current strain. The serious cardiovascular side effects are unfortunately not mentioned. Once again the Public have become the best Public health experts and are not going to take this medication. The bizarre pandemic laws needed to tested in a court and not in a journal by academic group think sheep.

Omicron is less dangerous than a cold. We know that as a fact. It is only dangerous, like any virus, to those with compromised immune systems.

We also know that anyone who took one jab of the covid vaccine has lost 50% of their immune system. 2 jabs and it is 70% loss. 3 jabs and it is 80% loss. THESE people, the ones that got jabbed, are the ones getting sick now and dying. Not just of Covid, but cancer rates are rocketing as are heart problems.

This is why the stats show clearly that if you have been jabbed, within a few months you are much more likely to catch and die of covid.

The US army stats show that death rates are 10 times higher that in the pre vaxxing era. US data from funeral companies show that US deaths are 12 times higher now in the vaccine era.

Steve Kirsch's team of data analysts show that at least 150,000 Americans have been killed by the vaccine ... probably more like 500,000.

Anyone who still thinks you should take the covid vaccine is trying to injure or kill you. It is that simple. If anyone is still in any doubt, go to Steve Kirsch's website and read a dozen of his newsletters. He will even give you a million dollars if you can prove him wrong. He is that sure of the data.

End this dangerous madness now. Tell any party that pushes this that they will lose your vote. Tell any company pushing it that they will lose your business. And, if they did force you, and you got sick or a relative was killed from it, take them to court.

This is copied from someone.....Among all the vaccines I have known in my life (diphtheria, tetanus, measles, rubella, chickenpox, hepatitis, meningitis and tuberculosis), I want to also add flu and pneumonia. I have never seen a vaccine that forced me to wear a mask and maintain my social distance, even when you are fully vaccinated. I had never heard of a vaccine that spreads the virus even after vaccination. I had never heard of rewards, discounts, incentives to get vaccinated. I never saw discrimination for those who didn't. If you haven't been vaccinated no one has tried to make you feel like a bad person. I have never seen a vaccine that threatens the relationship between family, colleagues and friends. I have never seen a vaccine used to threaten livelihoods, work or school. I have never seen a vaccine that would allow a 12-year-old to override parental consent. After all the vaccines I listed above, I have never seen a vaccine like this one, which discriminates, divides and judges society as it is. And as the social fabric tightens... It's a powerful vaccine! She does all these things except IMMUNIZATION. If we still need a booster dose after we are fully vaccinated, and we still need to get a negative test after we are fully vaccinated, and we still need to wear a mask after we are fully vaccinated, and still be hospitalized after we have been fully vaccinated, it will likely come to "It's time for us to admit that we've been completely deceived."

Brian, if you are still having to ask questions about why this is happening then, with all due respect, you haven't been listening.

Nobody has been "vaccinated". The sheeple who took the lethal injection have been poisoned with a so-called experimental technology that alters the human genome, destroys the immune system and will eventually kill most of the recipients. I say "so-called" experimental technology because I firmly believe that the producers of this lethal injection know EXACTLY what they are doing and what the effects will be.

All that needs to be done now is for people to simply say "NO" to the measures, "NO" to the lethal injection and a big fat "NO" to the digital currency, digital passport and giving away our biometric data to anyone, let alone a bank or a cellphone company.

1st of all there is no such animal as the "Covid19" virus. [not proven nor purified nor isolated, further more it means C=see ovid= sheep in old Greek 19= a military term for giving over to the enemy. So it means "See the sheep waving the white flag"]

2nd, The "Jab" is a program to cull the world population [The Billy goat said it openly they will be happy if they can reduce the world population by at least 15% through vaccines] ,

3rd, Our so called government was bought to implement this and they failed to reach the benchmark 70%, now they are in deep trouble,

4th, The Squirrel is one of Klaus Schwab new world leaders and programmed to bring in the new world order [build back better where all the slaves will own nothing and be happy]

5th, It was a wonderful golden opportunity for corruption and bribery as already been proven,

6th, Some factions in the Corporation masquerading as a government are high on "Acid", giving them the illusion that they have great power over the slaves and they cannot let this power grab slip out of their hands,

7th, All rules and regulation pertaining to this hoax/fraud are being introduced to trace and have all our details on record so they can implement their digital control aka China, where if you don't obey their directives, you will be ostracised from society and prohibited to earn a living for you and your family unless you repent and agree they are your master and obey as they tell you to do,

Enforcing vaccine mandates

Veteran South African journalist, Brian Pottinger, asks some very searching questions here, sparked by what seems to be SA's most absurd anti-Covid-19 measure yet. That is the branding of SARS-CoV2 as a 'Group 3 Hazardous Biological Agent', which widens the scope of employers to enforce vaccine mandates in spite of an early clutch of vaccine-mandate-favouring CCMA rulings. Like many good journalists, Pottinger goes to motive and doesn't like the conclusions he reaches. Add to this what we've learnt along the way and how our authoritarian response blindly follows the global pack and we're looking at a darker narrative: a pandemic management history rotten with dishonesty at every level. Maybe that's why the going has got even weirder, posits Pottinger. – Chris Bateman

By Brian Pottinger

Amid all the justified public rage, suspicion and ridicule about the latest fiasco of the amended Covid-19 regulations, the most alarming aspect seems to have slipped by almost unnoticed. President Cyril Ramaphosa's government has unprecedentedly branded SARS-CoV2 a Group 3 Hazardous Biological Agent, thus giving wide powers to employers to force their workers to be vaccinated against an expiring coronavirus in the last stages of a dying guided panic.

Prior to the Gazette on 16 March 2022, Business Unity South Africa (BUSA) had quietly indicated they would no longer seek a Constitutional Court ruling on the legality of forcing employees to be vaccinated under duress. They knew what was coming and probably did not want a judgment anyway. They rolled over, were typically complicit.

Section 43 of the Occupational Health and Safety Act, 1993 (Act No 85 of 1993) was designed to protect workers in businesses where hazardous biological agents are "produced, processed, used, handled, stored or transported". Incidentally, this provision has now been applied to an endemic coronavirus and extended to all employees everywhere.

The decision might yet prove one of the most fateful of President Ramaphosa's deeply challenged presidency and a test of the good faith of South Africa's big employers during the last two years. Nothing better indicates President Ramaphosa's insistence, and that of his rapidly narrowing and secretive band of advisers, to force mandatory vaccines come what may. Why? Let us quickly summarise what we have gathered about the SARS-CoV2 outbreak of 2020 and its symptoms known as Covid-19.

We know the death and infection projections of the scientific academic scientists who got us all locked up were wildly, maliciously and fantastically wrong. Professor Mark Woolhouse, one of the top advisers to the UK Government during the initial panic, described them in his jaw-dropping book, The True the World Went Mad (Sandstone), as not remotely plausible.

We have learnt that data collected by the World Health Organisation (WHO) and its reporting agencies was manipulated to exaggerate infections and deaths. In many countries these statistics are now being qualified, revised down or disclaimed. Go check the WHO's dashboard.

We know excess deaths, once all allocated to Covid-19, have proven to be equal only to a severe decadal coronavirus when controlled for natural mortality growth, misdiagnosis, routine excess winter deaths and the huge number of collateral deaths caused by the criminal withdrawal or delay of medical cover to the public, ostensibly to serve the Covid-19 patients who never arrived. These friendly-fire deaths are now quantifiable through the huge increases in non-Covid-19 insurance death claims.
